

dēfigī quidem dīrīs precātiōnibus nēmō nōn metuit.

to be afflicted indeed terrible prayers no one not fears

There is in fact no one who is not afraid of being the subject of a curse.

___ Pliny the Elder, Nat. His. 28.4.19