

Nihil est ab omnī parte beātum.

Nothing is from every part happy.

No situation is a happy one in every way

Horace, Carmina, II, xvi, 28-28