

1. The unlucky barbarians, having been ordered by the Romans to throw down their weapons, offered prayers to their gods.

subject: _____

participle: _____

participle tense: _____

participle voice: _____

participle modifies: _____

How do the words "by the Romans" function in the sentence?: _____

Vocabulary Help: Rōmānus, arma, deus, "precēs adhibēre"

2. The wise and learned soothsayer, cautiously considering the anger of the crowd, skillfully placed seven flowers on the eyes of the dead girl.

main subject: _____

main subj. gender: _____

main verb: _____

main verb tense: _____

main verb direct object: _____

identify "cautiously" _____

identify "considering" _____

"considering" modifies: _____

identify "skillfully" _____

preposition: _____ object of this prep.: _____

identify "of the dead girl": _____

case needed for "dead girl": _____

Vocabulary Help: doctus, cautē, cogitāre, īra, multitūdō, flōs, mortuus, puella